Sales Data

ReCount's® enhanced sales estimate is based on a proprietary methodology that calculates an annual sales estimate for each location based on the customer base and density, physical location and competitive environment for each store's trade area. This process is more accurate than conventional estimating methods or retailer interviews, which are subjective, with results that are difficult to replicate consistently. Other methods based on store averages or employee counts have great fluctuations from year to year and are all based on broad industry averages.
